Featuring

Renovating a Georgia Classic

Atlanta's Hurt Park and its iconic fountain have been fixtures in the city's downtown for more than eight decades. Time had taken its toll and the site underwent an extensive recently completed makeover, including a full-scale fountain renovation by Fountain People.

Refreshing the Supply (classic)

In January 2008, southern California's Orange County Water District unveiled its Groundwater Replenishment System, a treatment and reuse facility dedicated to producing water to resupply the county's beleaguered groundwater reserves. A year later, Eric Herman toured the facility, getting a behind-the-scenes look at a thought-provoking system that is setting new standards for water treatment, management and use.

Does Swimming Rebuild the Brain?

The list of known benefits of swimming continues to grow in rapid leaps and bounds. Recent research now indicates that swimming may foster neurogenesis -- the growth of new neurons in the brain -- new cognitive connections, and increased mental acuity. The evidence is so compelling, it's arguably worth considering swimming as possibly being the true "Fountain of Youth."
