Special Independence Day Edition

A Century of Reflections

Completed in 1923, the Lincoln Memorial Reflecting Pool is one of the truly iconic and most recognizable watershapes in the U.S. Serving as a visual centerpiece for the Mall in Washington D.C., the glassy expanse of water has undergone a major renovation, faced a number of maintenance challenges -- and been the site of numerous historic events.

Finishing for a Friend

Deceased watershaper and U.S. Marine veteran, Grant Smith, left behind a legacy of excellence, integrity and service. Following his untimely death in 2021, a group of his colleagues and friends from Watershape University stepped up to complete a number of his unfinished projects, bringing the work to successful resolutions, while living up to the high standards he stood for.

The Shape of Sacrifice (classic)

Dedicated in 2001, the D-Day Memorial in Bedford, VA, stands as a solemn commemoration of the sacrifices made by the U.S. and allied troops who landed on the beaches of Normandy in June 1944. At the center of the memorial stands a striking watershape that captures the spirit of the battlefield and serves as a haunting place of remembrance.

On the Steps of Freedom

Celebrating the birth of the United States is for many both a joyous and somber occasion. At least it is for Eric Herman, who shares memories of his first childhood trip to Washington D.C. and the pride he takes in our nation's history, as well as the lessons of the "American Experiment."
